Rouen, July 2003

COMPANY NEW QUALITY CERTIFICATION ISO 9001 (VERSION #2000)

CNI, Colloïdes Naturels International, the world leader in Acacia gum (main ingredient and/or additive for the Food and Pharmaceutical industries), is pleased to announce that they are certified ISO 9001 (Version 2000).

Already certified ISO 9002 since 1995, CNI has maintained its efforts to develop its Quality Management and to offer even more guarantees to its customers, regarding the control of production technique, the traceability of the products and take into account our customers' demands to give them complete satisfaction.

Thanks to the efforts that were made to improve its facilities and for the coordination of its departments (CNI had invested 10.6 Millions Euros on its production plant in 2001), this new certification ISO 9001 (Version 2000) covers the whole of CNI's activity, from the Concept to the Marketing and Sales of Colloïdes Naturels.

CNI's involvement in this approach, which has mobilized the entire company's expertise, was driven by its ongoing commitment to improve not only its performance but also the quality of its services.

As always, the World's largest purification and storage plant of Acacia gum, is proud to run a policy towards the quality products as well as the protection of the environment. In the same way, CNI offers a whole range of products certified "products from organic agriculture" by ECOCERT sas F-32600 (organization / body ruled by European standards) since 1998.

With the same concern for quality of its products and for satisfying its customers, CNI has also developed a HACCP (Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point) approach, which fits perfectly within the consumption context where companies such as CNI has to pay attention to quality and to food safety.

Today the ISO 9001 (Version 2000) confirms the trusted relationships that CNI has with its customers and partners by ensuring them of our commitment to quality.
